The Department of Languages, Mercy College, Palakkad, organized the program "Jnanavarshini 2025" on 17th July 2025 as part of the Vayanavaram (Reading Week) celebrations. This initiative, held under the Mercy Extension Activities of IQAC, aimed to promote reading culture and educational support for young learners in the community.

As part of the program, faculty members and students from the Mercy College visited the Government LP School, Kallikkad, where they interacted with the children and encouraged them to cultivate regular reading habits. Study materials were distributed to the school students to assist in their academic progress and to create a more resourceful learning environment.

The event not only highlighted the importance of reading and knowledge-sharing but also reflected the department's dedication to community outreach and educational empowerment. By combining the celebration of Vayanavaram with a practical act of service, the program made a meaningful impact on both the college participants and the school students.
