REPORT ON BASICS OF INVESTMENTS & DEPOSITORY SERVICES

DATE: 5 December 2025

TIME: 9:30 a.m

VENUE: EV 39

The Department of Economics and Sociology, Mercy College Palakkad, organized an informative session on “Basics of Investments & Depository Services” on 5 December at 9:30 a.m. onwards in EV 39. The session aimed to enhance students’ understanding of financial investments, capital markets, and the role of depository services in modern financial systems. The resource person for the session was Mr. Manu Murali, a SEBI SMARTS Trainer, who delivered an engaging and insightful talk on the fundamentals of investment and financial literacy. The session mainly focused on introducing students to different investment avenues, the importance of financial planning, and the functioning of depository services in the stock market.

During his presentation, the speaker explained various types of investment options such as stocks, mutual funds, bonds, and other financial instruments. He also highlighted the importance of making informed investment decisions and maintaining financial discipline. The concept of dematerialization of securities and the role of depositories in ensuring safe and efficient transactions were clearly explained, which helped students understand how the modern stock market operates.

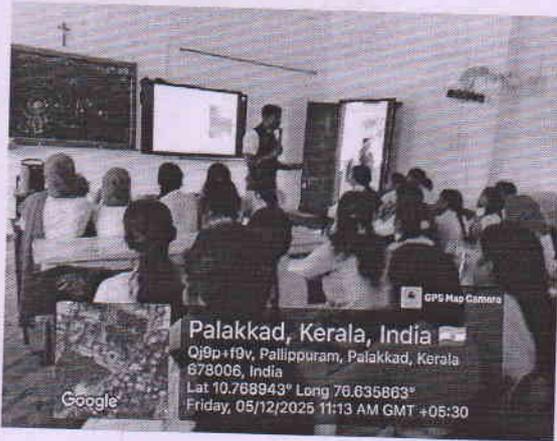

Mr. Manu Murali also emphasized the significance of financial awareness among young individuals and encouraged students to start learning about investments at an early stage. The session was highly interactive, and students actively participated by asking questions related to investment risks, market behavior, and investment strategies. The programme proved to be very informative and beneficial for the students as it provided them with practical knowledge about investment and financial markets. The Department expressed sincere gratitude to the resource person for sharing his valuable insights and making the session meaningful and engaging for the participants.
