SEQUENCE OF FUNCTIONS AND ITS APPLICATIONS

The PG Department of Mathematics and Statistics at Mercy College Palakkad organized a state level seminar on the topic “Sequence of Functions and Its Applications.” The seminar was conducted on 11th February 2026 at 9:30 a.m. in the Main Seminar Hall of the college. The resource person for the seminar was T. K. Rajan, Professor and Head of the Department of Mathematics at Yuvakshetra Institute of Management Studies and former Principal of Government Victoria College Palakkad. During the session, the resource person explained the concept of sequences of functions, their convergence, and various applications in mathematics and statistics. The seminar helped students understand how sequences of functions are used in advanced mathematical analysis and real-life applications. The session was informative and interactive, and students actively participated by asking questions and clarifying their doubts. Around 55 students were benefitted from the class.
