REPORT

The Department of Computer Applications, Mercy College, Palakkad, organized a Nature Walk on 5 June 2026 to observe World Environment Day. The programme was conducted with the participation of D3 BCA students and aimed to promote environmental awareness and appreciation for nature. The students explored the green campus of the college, observing various plant species, birds, and other natural elements while learning about the importance of biodiversity, environmental conservation, and sustainable living. The activity encouraged students to connect with nature, develop a sense of environmental responsibility, and understand the need to protect natural resources. The programme concluded with a discussion on the significance of World Environment Day and a pledge by the students to adopt eco-friendly practices in their daily lives, making the nature walk an informative and enriching experience.
