Workshop on research methodological practices in plant taxonomy

As a part of curriculum, the Department of botany of Mercy college had organized a workshop on Research Methodological Practices in Plant Taxonomy on 13/02/2025. A total of 32 post graduate students from the botany department have attended the workshop. The workshop aimed at enhancing the students' understanding and skills related to the methodologies used in plant taxonomy research. Dr. Udayan P S, who is working as a senior consultant in Kerala Forest Research Institute, Peechi, Thrissur district and has 35 years of research career presented the session. The session covered the basics of plant taxonomy, its significance in botany. Also, the session provided insight about 33 families included in the syllabus with corresponding pictures. Active participation often helped to reinforce learning and fostered a deeper understanding of the subject.
