The Department of Languages, Mercy College, Palakkad, organized a Reading Day Celebration on 23rd June 2025, which featured a one-day seminar aimed at fostering a love for reading and literature among students. The program was inaugurated by Dr. Sr. N.M. Louly, Principal, Mercy College, who spoke about the enduring importance of reading in the development of thoughtful and informed individuals. The keynote address was delivered by Dr. Usha Balakrishnan, former faculty member of Little Flower College, Guruvayur. Addressing an audience of 179 students, she emphasized how reading enhances critical thinking, imagination, empathy, and contributes to lifelong learning. She urged students to embrace books as companions that enrich both academic and personal life. The program successfully promoted the importance of reading as a transformative activity, inspiring students to build meaningful reading habits and appreciate the value of literature in everyday life.
